Seek Passage Of Relief Bill By Friday Eve

Supporters Of WPA Plan Move For Increase

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Two high administration officials spoke out today against restrictions on federal relief spending proposed in the $1,716,000,000 house bill to finance 1940 relief operations.

Secretary Ickes said a prohibition against using future public works administration funds to build industrial plants in competition with existing private enterprise "dictates to municipalities what they should and should not apply for and in that it distinctly traverses the Democratic principles of government.

Col. F. C. Harrington, Works Progress Administration chief, said after a conference with President Roosevelt that "some of the things in the bill are going to be awfully tough to try to administer."

In the house, various groups of members began organizing drives to increase various appropriations.

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt was urged by his relief advisers today to try to speed up congressional action on the $1,716,000,000 relief appropriation under consideration in the house.

Although the measure is slated to pass the house tomorrow night, a White House official said there was a "possibility of a nasty situation developing" if the senate should fail to act by June 30.

Col. F. C. Harrington, works progress administration chief, and Aubrey Williams, national youth administration director, called on the President today to express concern, it was reported, over the near exhaustion of relief funds for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Should the bill be passed just before the deadline, officials said, it would prove difficult and confusing to administer at the outset because of the sweeping changes in the WPA's administrative set-up.

Colonel Harrington and Williams, it was said, discussed the situation with the President in the hope he could do something to speed action.

A White House official said that while the house which received the relief bill from its appropriation committee yesterday planned to dispose of it in three days, the committee itself had received the President's request for funds nearly two months ago while it investigated relief machinery.

They said relief officials were seriously concerned over the possibility that the 2,500,000 or more persons now on the WPA rolls might have to be dropped unless congress acted quickly.

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Efforts to forestall sweeping restrictions on the federal relief program were being made by WPA supporters in the house today, in the face of indications that committee-approved policy changes would be adopted.

Leaders sought to pass the $1,716,000,000 relief bill by tomorrow night, giving the senate ample time to consider it before WPA funds run out June 30.

Broad-shouldered "Cliff" Woodrum, Virginia Democrat in charge of the measure, said at least four major amendments were being drafted by various members.

"It looks as if we will pass the bill in about the same form the committee recommended," Woodrum said after his explanation of the measure yesterday drew bi-partisan applause and three shouts for "more."

Representative Bradley (D-Pa) called a group meeting to frame an amendment increasing the $1,477,000,000 recommended by the

Fix Blame On Germany Over Two Disasters

Reverse Previous Theory They Were Due 'Accidents'

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—The mixed claims commission today held Germany responsible for the Black Tom and Kingsland, N. J., munitions disasters prior to the entry of the United States into the World War.

The international tribunal of which Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts is umpire, reversed its Hamburg decision of 1930 which accepted the "industrial accident" theory of the fires and explosions which rocked the New York metropolitan area in 1916 and 1917.

American claimants who sought damages of $50,000,000 from the reich, have contended throughout 12 years of litigation that the destruction of the Lehigh Valley railroad terminal at Black Tom in 1916 and the Kingsland assembly plant early in 1917 was the work of saboteurs in the pay of the imperial German government.

Germany was equally persistent in her denials, advancing the theory that the vast quantities of munitions which had been destined for allied nations were destroyed by accident, not design.

On the basis of its ruling today the tribunal promptly granted motions for the American damage awards.

The commission's decision was on an American motion to reopen the case and reverse the Hamburg decision on the basis of evidence that German witnesses had mapped out a dishonest defense and were guilty of "fraud, perjury and suppression of evidence." These witnesses included Count Von Bernstorff, war-time German ambassador to the United States and Franz Von Papen, former German chancellor and present ambassador to Turkey.

Counter Accusations

Germany countered with accusations of perjury on the part of American witnesses.

Christopher B. Garnett, the American commissioner, told the commission today the German commissioner had quit and returned to Germany. He said he had been no-

Opposition To Repeal Of Arms Embargo Act

Signers Of Round Robin Headed By Senator Nye

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Twenty-one senators have signed a challenge to the administration declaring there can be no compromise on any neutrality legislation which would repeal the automatic arms embargo.

Circulated in the form of a round robin, the statement was disclosed authoritatively to assert an open alliance with Great Britain, France, Russia or Japan would be "more honest" than the sale of munitions in wartime to nations which control the sea.

Repeal of the arms embargo, which now is mandatory whenever the neutrality law is invoked, was recommended by Secretary Hull and is embodied in the Bloom bill approved by the house foreign affairs committee. The bill would permit sale of munitions, as well as other articles, to warring countries which obtained title to them in the United States.

Would Forego Profit

Signers of the round robin were reported to include virtually all the "senate's "mandatory neutrality" bloc, headed by Senator Nye (R-ND), Clark (D-Mo) and Bone (D-Wash).

"The United States can ill afford," the statement said, "to place itself in the unbecoming light of a nation persisting in its talk about detesting war while at the same time scheming to get profit from the wars of other nations, or, while urging peace upon other nations, furnish the instrumentalities and munitions by which they may carry forward war.

"The United States can well afford to get along without such profit as might be available from other people's wars.

"To maintain the arms embargo is in no sense a restriction or limitation upon any constitutional power belonging to the executive.

"Putting munitions on a cash and carry basis is a subterfuge. Far more honest would be an open alliance with Great Britain, or Japan, or France, or Russia, than an act which would aid in time of war only that nation or those nations in control of the seas."

Senator Johnson (R-Calif) said he intended to sign the statement, attaching a supplemental one of his own, as follows:

"I believe fundamentally in these three things:

1. No discretion shall be granted to the president, beyond what the constitution gives him, of any kind or character.

"2. I would not permit any man, no matter who he is, to select an aggressor in case of war.

"3. If there is to be an embargo, it should be mandatory and impartial."

Although the round robin made no mention of a senate filibuster if the administration legislation is brought up, Senator Borah (R-Ida) said he thought that there should be a thorough discussion of the matter.

The senate foreign relations committee voted yesterday to begin a study of neutrality legislation next Wednesday. House leaders hope to pass the Bloom bill within two weeks.

King And Queen To Sail Tonight

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, June 15—(Canadian Press) — King George and Queen Elizabeth ended an historic 9,401-mile journey through Canada and the United States as they arrived today at this old Nova Scotia port where they will embark tonight for Newfoundland on their way back to England.

Thousands of subjects drawn from all parts of the maritime provinces gave them a welcome such as has greeted their majesties at every stop of their 30-day trip across the continent and back.

Long before the royal blue-and-silver train arrived Halifax was packed with crowds who had gathered throughout the night to roar a welcome and later say farewell to the King and Queen.

Their majesties' last night in Canada—and last night aboard the train on which they have slept 22 nights since landing at Quebec May 17—was spent on a siding a few miles east of Truro. Only eight nights of the royal tour have been spent off the train when their majesties were guests at the Citadel in Quebec, Rideau Hall in Ottawa, Banff, Victoria, Jasper National Park, the White House and President Roosevelt's home in Hyde Park.

An unscheduled stop was made at Truro where 15,000 spectators cheered when the King and Queen made a ten-minute platform appearance.

Their majesties covered 9,401 miles. Of this 1,235 miles were in the United States.

In Halifax a warm sun dried decorations sodden after more than 12 hours of rain.

Babe Snatched Was Suffocated

Such Is Coroner's Belief In Death Of Clyde, O., Child

CLYDE, O., June 15—(AP)—Sheriff H. L. Myers said today he planned to present results of his investigation of the cold-blooded killing of 10-weeks-old Haldon Fink to Prosecutor A. L. Hyzer for possible grand jury action.

The sheriff said all members of the baby's family had volunteered to be fingerprinted today "for purposes of elimination." The sheriff last night also took fingerprints of Irvin Fink, the baby's father who was divorced last week by the mother, and James Powers, Fink's companion the night of the kidnap-killing occurred.

All prints, Sheriff Myers said, will be compared with those taken from the front door knob of the Baker house the night of the disappearance.

Deputies were sent to drag the creek today for the blue blanket and a bootee which were in the baby's crib before the kidnaping. Meanwhile, the funeral was arranged for Saturday.

CLYDE, O., June 15— (AP) — Evidence indicated today the cold-blooded killer of 10-week-old Haldon Fink "deliberately and immediately" suffocated the baby, whose body was found floating in a creek seven miles away 12 hours

Casey Struck Out

Trip By Governor East By Plane

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—(AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark plans to use national guard planes for his quick trip Sunday to New York where he will address the Federated Advertising Club, of America.

The executive plans to leave Hannibal at noon and fly to Springfield, Ill., in a small plane. At Springfield he will take a larger, faster national guard plane and stop at Columbus, O., en route to New York.

The governor will be the principal speaker at the advertising organization's meeting Monday.

Stark indicated he might include a quick visit to Washington in his eastern trip but had nothing to say about his plans in the national capital.

Peace By Labor Forces Remote

Green In Reply To Remarks Of John L. Lewis

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Labor peace negotiations appeared to be at an an end today after John L. Lewis, CIO president, declared further dealings with AFL representatives were impossible.

Calling the AFL leadership "reactionary" and working to "crystallize anti-New Deal sentiment," Lewis told reporters that CIO executives were agreed "they should go forward with renewed vigor."

His sudden pronouncement brought no immediate comment from administration officials, watching the negotiations ever since President Roosevelt requested their inauguration last winter.

It brought a quick response, however, from AFL President William Green, who characterized Lewis' remarks as "intemperate."

"The leader of the CIO has again blocked labor peace," Green said.

Lewis' statement followed a long session with the CIO executive board yesterday. The board, he said, accepted without recommendations the report on peace negotiations last March and expressed a unanimous view that peace was "a secondary consideration" to CIO's prime objective of enrolling unorganized workers.

Rival Leaders' Views

Of the rival federations, he said the board's opinion was:

"That the AFL is still under the control of a small group firmly entrenched and reactionary in their attitude on public questions and who are tolerant of many evil conditions existing inside the AFL."

The report on the negotiations, he explained, was placed before the board to show "how impossible it was" to negotiate peace.

Green's reply was that the federation had done its utmost "to effect a reasonable peace in the interests of labor and the country."

"Now Mr. Lewis says peace is impossible," Green said. "The reasons he gives publicly are too ridiculous to merit serious consideration and are offered merely to mislead the public.

"The real reason is that he does

Resist Move To Distribute Big Risk Fund

Not Oppose Case Going Back To Former Status

KANSAS CITY, June 15—(AP)—A hundred and thirty-six fire insurance companies served notice in federal court today they would resist any move looking toward refunding to policyholders approximately $9,500,000, impounded in the Missouri risk rate case litigation.

Boss Tom Pendergast of the Kansas City Democratic organization and his lieutenant R. Emmet O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, were paid for their influence in compromising the case. Pendergast received $315,000 and O'Malley $62,500. Both neglected to pay federal income taxes on the funds, were indicted, pleaded guilty and both now are serving terms at Leavenworth penitentiary. Pendergast was sent to prison for 15 months and O'Malley for a year and a day.

Attorneys for the 136 companies filed their answer in the three-judge federal court to its order that they show cause why funds distributed to them should not be returned to policy-holders at the expense of the companies.

They offered no resistance to returning the funds to the court's custodian, restoring the rate case to its status before the compromise, and then handling it on its merits.

Only one of the 137 companies involved in the case was not included in the answer. Homer Berger, insurance attorney, said the Western Fire Insurance Company would file its own answer.

The 136 companies propose all settlements made in the fraudulent compromise of 1935 be set aside and the case handled as if no settlement of any kind had ever been reached. They denied that the late Charles R. Street of Chicago, insurance executive, who raised and passed on to Pendergast approximately $460,000, in any way acted with authority for the companies.

The petition said Street was not in the general employment of the plaintiff but was chairman of a committee which had existed for more than twenty years, which supervised matters of common interests to insurance companies."

The committee was the subscribers Actuarial committee which served as the executive committee of the Eastern Underwriters Association. The committee had charge of the Missouri rate litigation for the companies.

The companies, the petition continues, "did not authorize C. R.

For Offices To Stay At Capital

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—(AP)—A senate-house conference committee approved today a house provision that the state unemployment headquarters remain in Jefferson City.

The conferees recommended, however, that the capital city's retention of the headquarters be made conditional upon "satisfactory" arrangements for office space here. The commission offices are now housed in a shoe factory building.

A contest over senate adoption of the conference report was indicated when Sen. W. B. Whitlow (D), Fulton, asked that it be laid over until tomorrow. Columbia —in Whitlow's district—is among the state's cities which had been mentioned as a possible location for the job insurance department. Sedalia and Mexico also have been candidates for the state department.

One senator pointed out that the terms of the conference committee report would virtually leave the commission free to locate any place in the state should it deem its Jefferson City headquarters not "satisfactory."

Under one suggested plan the commission would occupy a "modern and fireproof" building in Jefferson City on a rental basis and eventually the state would take title to the building by amortizing the cost out of the rent.

Finland Pays On War Debt

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Hjalmar Procope, minister of debt-paying little Finland, kept his country's record clean today by presenting $160,693 to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

The Finnish payment, on the war debt, included $141,662.10 under the funding agreement of 1923 and $19,030.50 under the moratorium agreement of 1932.

The Baltic Sea country was the only one of Uncle Sam's creditors remitting its full share of war debt installments falling due today.

Tense Episode In a Blockade Is Relieved

Joint Action May Be Sought By The British

TIENTSIN, June 15—(AP)—A tense episode in Japan's blockade of Tientsin foreign areas in which British troops with machine-guns and Japanese troops with tanks faced each other across barricades for several hours was ended tonight when both forces marched away.

A strong British note to Japanese authorities insisted on "immediate steps" to end the stopping and searching of British subjects by Japanese soldiers blockading the British and French concessions.

The opposing troops, patrolling opposite sides of the barricaded concession boundary, were separated by only a few feet until the British suddenly withdrew and the Japanese then quickly removed their forces.

Action May Be Asked

By The Associated Press

British and Japanese forces were reported facing each other across a barricade at Tientsin today as both nations gave signs of stiffening in the conflict of their interests in China.

British Prime Minister Chamberlain indicated the possibility that joint action by Britain, France and the United States might be sought.

Chamberlain said a Japanese spokesman at Tientsin had indicated that Japan's blockade of the British and French concessions there was to obtain "a much wider form of cooperation from British interests in China."

"Such demands," he declared, "would raise important questions of policy in which other great powers are concerned no less than this country and the closest touch is being maintained with the French and United States governments."

Britain, meanwhile, faced a diplomatic issue with Germany as a result of Chamberlain's announcement to commons yesterday that he had asked the German government to withdraw its consul-general from Liverpool.

An official announcement in Berlin said there was no truth to charges linking the consul-general, Walter Reinhardt, with a spy case and that Germany reserved the right to take retaliatory measures.

In London Britain was believed ready to take direct economic reprisals against Japan as the 120,000 residents of the British concession at Tientsin began to feel the pinch of a Japanese blockade imposed Wednesday.

Confer On Crisis

Sir Thomas Inskip, dominions secretary, conferred with the dominians' London representatives on the crisis with Japan.

The new struggle—begun over British refusal to deliver four Chinest alleged terrorists from the Tientsin concession but with Japan's whole "new order in East Asia" policy in the background—was broadened, meanwhile, by a Japanese naval blockade at Amoy and reports of at least a part blockade at Hankow.

Domei, Japanese news agency, reported that when British infantrymen mounted machine-guns facing Japanese across a sandbag barricade at Tientsin, Japanese quickly brought four

Peace At Flint As State Police Appear There

Followers Of Homer Martin Back To Work

FLINT, Mich., June 15—(AP)—Peace prevailed in Flint today following a dramatic early morning appearance of Michigan state police to disperse a milling mass of men still agitated over the brief and now settled General Motors strike.

Followers of Homer Martin in the United Auto Workers union (AFL) which called the strike, returned to work at 7 a. m., joining members of the UAW-CIO who refused to recognize the strike and never left their jobs. Martin claimed a settlement agreement with General Motors.

As the day shifts began at the many General Motors plants here pickets were absent for the first time in a week and the tension was lessened. Flint police and Genesee county deputies were present but the state troopers, who put in a swift and psychologically effective appearance at 2 a. m. were out of sight.

Streets Are Cleared

The state police, 100 strong, cleared the streets in the vicinity of Fisher Body plant No. 1 and emptied the halls of both unions when it became apparent to Flint officials that a riotous situation was in the making. Windows in the CIO hall were smashed Wednesday and retaliation was feared.

Approximately 800 men wearing CIO armbands, had assembled, singing union songs and shouting.

The crowd was broken up swiftly and without argument when the state police rushed to the scene in automobiles.

The union halls were kept cleared of loiterers today by Flint police.

Both halls presented a grim fortified appearance. With both unions claiming victory in the strike and picketing ended it seemed likely that further violence could be avoided although observers said there remained much bitterness between the two unions.

The AFL announcement brought a rejoinder from the CIO today it was "a transparent face-saver to cover inability to call" an effective strike.

Spokesmen fo rthe rival CIO union contended that Martin obtained no agreement but referred to a letter General Motor sent both unions yesterday stating its policy in the dispute between the two.

Each seeks recognition as the collective bargaining agent and holder of the present contract, signed before the UAW divided into two unions.

The corporation's letter informed both unions that "it has been impossible to accord either the rights under the contract to the exclusion of the other without showing partiality" in eleven plants and then made a new offer, saying:

"However, in those plants where committees have been rendered inactive by the factional dispute, if the two factions will agree between themselves, we will recognize a jointly-established committee as competent to confer and negotiate grievances in accordance with the agreement." (The present contract.)

The Embarrassing Few

In any large group there are bound to be a certain number of persons who do not know how to behave and who by their every action display their bad manners and lack of breeding.

It was, of course, too much to hope that this would not hold true in Canada and the United States—which together have a population of nearly 150,000,000—when King George and Queen Elizabeth came visiting.

While there were a few untoward incidents during the trip across Canada, they amounted to little compared to the antics of a small group of Washington congressmen who were determined to embarrass the president and used the capitol as their rostrum.

They first seized upon the detention in Detroit of Sean Russell, Irish Republican Army leader, and threatened to organize a boycott of the congressional reception for Their Majesties. Finally Russell's release was arranged, but not until a bit of unpleasant publicity had resulted.

Then one congressman of Irish descent dispatched a telegram to King George—who at the moment was a guest of this same congressman's government in the White House—reminding him of the rather sizeable British war debt. Following that a suggested royal banquet menu was released by this representative to newspapermen. Calculated to be funny but causing only embarrassment, the menu made various references to Revolutionary War engagements.

Regardless of a person's nationality or political beliefs, such manners as these can be labeled nothing short of rude. The king and queen had been invited here by the head of the United States government and while they were his guests they were entitled to the same politness as an invited guest in your home.

Whether Their Majesties were conscious of these embarrassing actions will never be known. They, of course, are too well bred themselves to even hint that they were aware of what was going on.

If they are, however, it is hoped that they will judge Americans by the millions of well-behaved citizens instead of the handful of bad actors. The king and queen have left in America a good impression. Americans hope that they carry home with them pleasant memories of this nation.

• So They Say

There are Christian principles involved in the relations between employers and employes that Catholics and non-Catholics should know.—Rev. Raymond A. McGowan, National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Intelligent compromise is the only effective tactic in this disordered civilization.—Dr. Edwin S. Burdell, director, Cooper Union.

There is no more direct way to capture control of a nation than through control of its credit system.—Philip A. Benson, president, the American Bankers' Association.

Submarine Safety

It often takes a disaster with tremendous loss of life and property to inspire scientific progress in an attempt to avoid further such occurrences.

That appears to be the case in the recent sinkings of the U. S. submarine Squalus and the British submarine Thetis. Inventions and ideas are deluging the Navy Department and while everyone hopes that another submersible never meets the same fate, these efforts definitely are not locking the barn door after the stallion has been stolen.

Engineers probably will concentrate on making three improvements:

1. Automatic closing devices. The Squalus sank because of an open air-induction valve, the Thetis apparently because doors of torpedo tubes were open.

2. Air line attached to marker buoy. When the buoy is released by the sunken craft, it would carry the line to the surface, admitting air to the submarine, thus keeping the trapped crew members alive.

3. Auxiliary power plant. The main light and power plants of both vessels were de-commissioned when they sank.

The rescue chamber which saved the lives of the 33 Squalus survivors was inspired by the sinking of the S-4 and S-51 12 years ago. Safety devices of equal importance should follow the two recent disasters.

Jobs Ahoy

Almost any one of the 155,000 college graduates of 1939 will settle for a $15 per week job and then try to make a future out of it. They're lucky even to get that, because the U. S. Department of Education says that only one in every three or four find immediate employment.

John A. West, Jr., a Harvard senior with a nautical twist of mind, knew those facts when he dispatched an SOS in 81 bottles to various eastern employers. His appeal:

"Stranded on an island in Cambridge, Mass. A college graduate-to-be in June. Will work like hell for passage into port. Gold stored here with me—(training in arts, sciences, business, including marketing and advertising. Past experience in newspaper office, summer theater, steel mill. Best references.) You're getting ahead and I'm going your way. Have you room in the hold for a man who can prove he's worth his salt?"

Of 60 concerns which answered, West signed on with the crew of a Philadelphia advertising agency. To John West and other college graduates who are lucky enough to land jobs, the world wishes many happy crossings. To those who don't succeed at first, remember that a good mariner never runs from a stiff wind.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Highly important but secret political consequence of the royal visit to America is a plan, brought forward by the King's advisers, to establish a residence in Canada and live there a part of every year.

Motive behind the plan is to prop the loose-knit British Empire, for the strongest cohesive force in the Empire is the feeling of personal loyalty for the sovereigns. To make that force more potent, it is argued, the sovereigns should present themselves in person outside of "the tight little island."

The success of the current tour has lent strength to the proposal, according to which the King and Queen, instead of retreating to Balmoral Castle in Scotland for the summer months, would cross the Atlantic to a residence in Canada.

Hot Stuff

As acting chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Representative Sol Bloom of New York introduced his colleagues to the King and Queen. Sol had things well in hand from beginning to end, but Queen Elizabeth called him on one detail that was too much for him.

Washington's ferocious heat appalled Their Majesties, while a downpour early in the afternoon of the first day boded ill for the British Embassy's garden party a few hours later. However, when the party finally got under way, the sun was shining brightly again. Among the first to arrive was Sol. Presented to the Queen he remarked proudly, "Well, Your Majesty, you see I fixed the rain all right."

"Yes," she replied, then added slyly, "but you forgot the heat."

NOTE — After the King and Queen's visit to Capitol Hill, Senator Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina told newsmen: "It's a good thing the Senate isn't meeting again today, because if someone offered a bill to cancel the British war debt, a lot of the boys would vote for it under the spell of the Queen's bright eyes and fascinating smile."

Insurance War

Behind the scenes in the U. S. Housing Authority is raging an insurance battle for business which makes Jimmy Roosevelt's famous commissions look like canary bird feed.

U. S. Housing plans to take out a half-billion dollars worth of insurance on all its slum clearance projects, and the issue is whether the business will go to the mutual companies or the stock companies.

A juicy sum in agents' commissions is involved, and at one point in the discussion, Roosevelt called in Nathan Straus, U. S. Housing Administrator, and asked him point blank if Jimmy had been monkeying in this insurance deal. Straus replied in the negative.

The insurance firm of Conklin, Price and Webb, of Chicago, got the first USHA insurance contract on the 52 housing projects inherited from PWA, with no bids asked. Later it was learned that Conklin, Price and Webb had sold the USHA insurance to United Firemen's which is about 50 per cent British, and to Phoenix Casualty and Indemnity, which also is largely controlled by the British.

Other insurance companies, wanting the business, rubbed the British angle home on Straus so persistently that eventually he took 80 per cent of the business away from Conklin, Price and Webb, placing it with the Stock Company Association, a group of old line companies.

Mutuals Winning

However, this was only on old PWA projects, involving a mere fraction of the business that is to come on Straus' new slum clearance apartments. Here is where the struggle between the stock companies and the mutuals really comes to grips.

Mutual companies operate on a higher premium basis, with profits returned to those who buy insurance. The New England Factory Mutual Group, speaking for 21 mutual companies, bid $181,000 for fire insurance on the 52 PWA projects for three years. But figuring on dividends of about $132,000, the actual cost to the Government would be only $49,000.

On the other hand, the Stock Company Association bid $135,000 for three years coverage. It gives local agents a cut in its premiums, and many of these agents have been bombarding USHA to take this form of insurance.

Although mutual insurance would leave the Government liable for a share of any losses as well as profits, none of the companies interested in the housing contract has assessed members for losses in 100 years or so. The lower net cost of insurance in the mutual companies probably will swing Administrator Straus to them. The battle, however, continues.

NOTE — The fact that stock companies probably will lose out in the insurance battle may have something to do with the reappointment of George Allen as a commissioner for the District of Columbia. It was reported that Allen resigned as commissioner to join Home Insurance a stock company, in order to swing its way a large hunk of USHA insurance. Now that the mutuals have the inside track, Allen has become a commissioner once again.

Knighted Press Officer

In the course of the royal tour, in fact, while the royal train was in motion, George F. Steward became a knight.

Steward acted as buffer between their royal persons and the press, and had been tireless in his efforts. The King wanted to thank him for it, and summoned him to bestow knighthood upon him.

As Ward Price, British newsman, described it, "Steward had been most diligent in staving off all the newshawks who wanted to know such things as whether the Queen wore lace frills on her panties — and he got his reward."

Merry-Go-Round

Lame-duck Senator F. Ryan Duffey is a sure bet as successor to Federal Judge Geiger of Milwaukee, who resigned recently . . . One reason the White House is wary about accepting "gifts" is that in many cases the article is followed a few days later by a bill. . . . An aide of the Japanese Embassy asked Interior Department for all information on Alaska and the proposed polar expedition. With smiling frankness, he said, "This is for transmission to Tokyo." . . . U. S. Weather Bureau plans to increase the number of forecasts at Eastern stations from two to four per day. Under the present system, a morning radio broadcast of weather prospects is already 12 hours stale . . . Alberto Cabero, Chile's new Ambassador to Washington, is breaking the diplomatic code by getting up at 6 in the morning, coming to his chancery as early as 8.

● SERIAL STORY

DATE WITH DANGER

BY HELEN WORDEN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Martin is found murdered and the officers take Tuckie Thompson to headquarters. "Maybe I did do it," she whimpers as she is taken away. The gun is not found.

CHAPTER XXIII

WHEN Mary walked into the Gazette next morning the city room was functioning in its quiet way. Dog-tired, she slipped unnoticed to her desk. She was aware, however, that everyone was reading copies of the paper, which was unusual at this hour. The first edition did not come out ordinarily until 11 o'clock.

All the copies were marked "Extra" and all bore the same banner head in bold-face type across the top of the front page, "Duke Martin Murdered; Girl Suspected."

It gave Mary a bitter sensation of pain to be back in the office where she had spent so much time in such close association with Tom Ladd. She felt as if he were dead. With set face she sat down at her desk and began making the routine phone calls for the small items which go to make up a society page. Determined to ignore the Martin story, she busied herself with small-fry.

Mrs. Kingdon Morgan was giving a luncheon for five at the Colony. The Forsyth Goulds had closed their Tuxedo estate and were going to the Carolinas for quail shooting. Mrs. Spalding Martin had a baby. Fifi Whitney was getting a divorce. Old Mr. Wesley Peters had the gout. There'd been a split at the Talleho Club. Mrs. Watts Ridley was wearing the Ridley emeralds again and couldn't move without two detectives. Tommy Dresser had married a grass widow twice his age and his relatives, not hers, were protesting.

After Mary had collected enough of this chatter she began writing her column, but it wasn't easy to concentrate. These were picayune details that irritated her mind. The picture of Duke Martin's dead body remained in her memory.

She called to Pete, the office boy, to put a new ribbon in her typewriter, then got up and strolled across the room to look out the window while he did it.

Her eyes wandered out over the bay. White caps danced on the blue waters. Sea-gulls skimmed the waves. A great liner, in a convoy of bustling tugs, was moving seaward, pennants flying, whistles blowing. Mary sighed. She wished she were on board, leaving behind the gangsters who got shot, the debs who made fools of themselves and the crazy managing editors who insulted their reporters.

"Typewriter's ready, Miss Franklin," called Pete.

Mary's heart wasn't in her work. She moved slowly away from the window, stopped for a drink of water and picked up a stray letter in her mail box. The morning was interminable; two hours until noon. Could she stick it out?

"HEAR about our mysterious phone tip, Mary?" asked Crossie, walking over from the city desk.

He had been up all night and his eyes had a glassy brightness as he fixed them intently on her. He needed a shave and his clothes were rumpled.

"No, what was it?" she inquired indifferently.

Watching her as a cat would a mouse, Crossie described the build-up that led to the Gazette's scoop on the murder. Midnight—the voice of a strange woman.

"We beat all the other papers by two editions," he added excitedly, "but we don't know yet who made the mysterious call. Mac Rogers says she had a swell voice." He stared at her. "The boss phoned a while ago. He said when he got down he wanted to see you."

As Mary strolled back to her desk, Ladd came dashing through the city room, indifferent to his good looks, eager, impatient, lovable. Her heart beat quickly. He did not see her. Hurt and vexed, she refused to look up from her typewriter when he passed by. His indifference exasperated her. To make it worse, he was unaware of it.

As he stopped to say something to Crossie, it was evident that his one concern was the murder of Duke Martin.

"I want to talk with Mary Franklin," he said irritably. "But before she comes in, send Rogers to me. The real story hasn't been scratched."

Still oblivious of Mary, he strode across the room to his office. Rogers followed.

"What's the latest on the Martin shooting?" demanded Ladd, impatiently shoving aside the opened mail which his secretary had laid on his desk.

"Tuckie Thompson has been arrested." A faint grin etched Rogers' face.

Ladd tapped his fingers on the desk top. "Are you sure it was Miss Franklin's voice that gave you the tip from Martin's apartment?"

"Yes." Rogers' intensity was impressive.

"You're certain it wasn't this Thompson woman?"

"Lord, there's no confusing those voices. Have you ever had Tuckie on the phone?"

"All right. Play down Tuckie. Give a teaser on this mystery woman. That's enough for the present."

Ladd pressed the call button at the side of his desk as Rogers left.

"Tell Miss Franklin I'd like to see her."

MARY walked in slowly. She gave Ladd a long stare. His face bore an expression of deep distress. There was concern in his eyes.

"You look as if you hadn't slept much last night," she said quietly. Then, "Did you want to see me?"

"Yes, you know more about this murder of Martin than anyone else. Why in the devil are you trying to protect that little tramp, Clem Shirley?" He stared at her questioningly.

His heart was hot with anger as he mentioned the name Shirley. He remembered Jim Shirley.

"I'm not trying to protect Clem Shirley," Mary insisted defiantly.

"Then give us the story."

"I don't know the story."

"You know it too well," he cried violently. "The whole thing's a farce. Who are you working for, me or Jim Shirley? You even know who the killer is."

"I don't." Mary was too angry to cry. She faced him, eyes flashing, cheeks red.

Ladd jumped up, tired and over-wrought. "You were the last person in Duke Martin's apartment. You called this office and tipped off Mac Rogers and you hung up the phone before he could ask you any questions, but he recognized your voice. What are you trying to sidestep?"

He waited for her to speak. She said nothing. He seized her arm. Furious, she drew back. "Let me go," she protested.

"You're fired unless you write that story," he said sharply.

"Very well then, I'm fired," she cried.

Again he reached out a hand to detain her, but she'd gone. He braced his shoulders, moved away from the door. Pausing for a minute, he stared intently out the window, then rang for his secretary.

"Get me Commissioner Fenelon on the phone."

He picked up the receiver. "Hello, Fenelon. This is Ladd. I want you to arrest Mary Franklin for the murder of Duke Martin."

Society and Clubs

In a quiet double-ring ceremony performed at St. Patrick's church at 7:30 o'clock this morning, Miss Helen Frances Dorsey became the bride of Zeno Joseph Otto, of Columbia, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Otto, of Jefferson City.

The mass was said by Rev. Father Edward J. Comer, of Grand Rapids, Mich., a close family friend, and the nuptials were read by the Rev. W. J. McGrane, pastor of the church. Cousins of the bride, Clement and Bernard Ilmberger, assisted at the altar.

The bride wore a floor-length white lace and net gown, with short puffed sleeves complementing the graceful styling. She carried a gardenia and lily-covered prayer book to which streamers bearing white rosebuds and sweet peas were attached. A band of white gardenias were worn in her hair.

The bride, an attractive young woman with charming personality, looked lovely as she stepped from the sacristy door in the church to the center of the sanctuary to meet the bridegroom for the nuptial service.

Her sister, Mrs. Herbert Berlin, of Columbia, was her attendant. Mrs. Berlin wore a chartreuse dress and her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Mr. Otto's brother, Edwin Otto, of Jefferson City, served as best man. Ushers were Waldo Bardwell of Sedalia, and George Goedde, of Jefferson City, a close friend of the bridegroom.

The altar of the church was banked with large bouquets of white flowers, interspersed with ferns. Wedding music was played by Miss Martha Redmond at the organ.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Dorsey home, 222 East Fourth street, to the bridal party, members of the immediate families, Father McGrane, Father Comer and Rev. J. B. Pleus, of Jefferson City, priest at the parish of Mr. Otto's family.

After the breakfast the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip. The bride's traveling ensemble was a black and white crepe dress, with a white-trimmed coat, a matching white and black hat, and other accessories of black. Her corsage was of roses and gardenias.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Otto will be at home at 217 Waugh in Columbia. The bridegroom is asscciated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The bride, born and reared in Sedalia, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Dorsey. She graduated from Smith-Cotton high school and for some time has been employed in the bookkeeping department of the C. W. Flower Dry Goods Company.

The bride's mother, who recently passed away suddenly, had made the plans for her daughter's wedding, and those plans were carried out in a smaller way by the daughter today.

There will be a complimentary dance for members and their out-of-town guests at the Sedalia Country Club Saturday night. Music for the summer formal will be furnished by a colored orchestra.

Dancing will commence at 10 o'clock and will continue until one o'clock.

Mrs. James Pierre Lamy and members of her social committee are in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. H. O. Foraker and Mrs. Lawrence Barnett tied for honors in the "blind bogie" golf tournament at the Sedalia Country Club, played on Ladies Day Tuesday. The play-off will be next Tuesday.

The contest was for low totals on numbers six and seven of the course, the big and little "dinkies," respectively.

Ten players were entered in the tournament.

Frank Potts, son of H. B. Potts, 1104 West Third street observed his eighth birthday Wednesday by entertaining a number of his little friends at a picnic at Liberty park, at the noon hour.

Mrs. Bernadine Thorn prepared a lunch for the children, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kurtz assisted in entertaining the little ones, who were, Bobby Jackson, Sonny Jackson, Gloria Reid, Phyllis Joan Payton, Joan Kurtz. Joe Potts, Bobby Cahill, Dicky Dean.

Mrs. I. L. Robertson entertained a group of children Tuesday afternoon at her home in honor of the thirteenth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Doris Pearl. The afternoon was spent in playing games. Awards going to Anna Mae Sumners, Anna Hollcroft and Nola Ruth Cawley.

The table was decorated in pink with a large birthday cake in the center with pink candles and pink baskets filled with pink candy with each child's name on the basket. There were favors for everyone present. Refreshments of pink and white ice cream and cake were served the following guests:

Gloria Jean Reed, Anna and Gertrude Hollcroft, Charlene and Anna Mae Sumners, Nola Ruth Cawley, Mary Helen Esser, Winifred Griswold, June Newland, Marion Swafford, Mary Ellen Hoover, Ruth Ann Botts and little Miss Susan Prowell, Lois and Beulah Bonell and Doris Pearl Robertson.

Special guest from out of town was: Doris Pearl's brother, Junior, who is visiting with his parents. He arrived from Forth Worth, Texas, Sunday and will spend his two weeks' vacation here.

Rev. R. E. Hurd Is Honored On His Birthday

Surprise Dinner Tendered Pastor Of Epworth Church

A very delightful surprise was given to Rev. Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church, Wednesday evening when one hundred and fifty members of his congregation, and friends, gathered at the church in celebration of his birthday. Rev. Hurd was under the impression the fellowship meeting was to be a Flag Day program.

The abundance of food to which all contributed was served cafeteria style and the guests were then seated at three long tables very beautifully decorated by Mrs. Frank Clark. Small mirrors representing water and upon which were tiny ships loaded with good wishes were placed at intervals. The mirrors were surrounded with Talisman roses from which extended frilled strips of pink and peach colored crepe paper. Lighted tapers of pink and peach in white holders and roses of the same shades in bud vases were placed along the tables. In the center of the speakers table was a cake with a miniature minister and pulpit on top. Young girls, in pastel floor length dresses, poured the coffee.

Mrs. W. A. Green returned thanks.

Present With Cake

After the banquet a very enjoyable program in charge of Mrs. A. O. Grishkat was presented, as follows:

A birthday song to the preacher by the children's choir, which also presented him a cake with candles requesting him to blow them out.

Miss Mildred Blythe read a tribute to the Rev. Hurd which had been written for the occasion by Miss Hazel Lang.

A piano solo, "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia," by Mrs. Ralph Salmons.

A quartet, composed of William Morgan, Russell Robb, F. O. Withers and Ed Shelby sang "Peace, Wonderful Peace."

Two readings were given in a most charming manner by Miss Helen Music, Miss Pearl Wagner accompanying.

A duet by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robb was "The Church By The Side Of The Road."

A solo by Mrs. F. O. Withers, "The Holy Hour."

The children's chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Clark sang two numbers, "The Little Brown Sparrow," and "The String Of Pearls," request numbers by the pastor.

Rev. Hurd was then presented a huge box tied with yellow ribbon and Talisman roses in which was a robe of red and black striped silk, by Mrs. Margaret M. McCarthy, faithful teacher of the Willing Toilers' class and whose idea it was to have the party. Mrs. McCarthy made a very impressive presentation speech.

Then Miss Betty Anton brought him an exquisite fuchsia, a gift from the F. O. C. class of young girls.

Rev. A. A. Halter, district superintendent, his wife and two daughters were introduced.

Mrs. Russell Robb and Mrs. Virgil Tucker sang "Perfect Day," accompanied by Mrs. Paul Berthouex who also accompanied several of the other numbers.

Rev. Hurd was very happy over the event and made a splendid talk on his appreciation and his hopes for the future.

Rev. Hurd's sister, Miss Fanny Hurd and his brother, Guy Hurd, were special guests at the banquet as was Mrs. Elizabeth Boyle of Independence, Mo., who is one of the oldest members of the Epworth church.

Poem In Tribute

The poem, written by Miss Hazel Lang follows:

"He stands like a boy in the pulpit there
With a smile on his face and a carefree air.
And he talks of the Father in Heaven above,
Of Christ, the Son, His abundant love;
He talks of the glorious life beyond
And somehow one feels that a wonderful bond
Lies between this man in the pulpit there
And the God he talks to in his prayer.

"Twenty years ago he came to preach
And his personality seemed to reach
Beyond his church and spread afar
Like the radiance of a brilliant star.
He settled down in this town of ours
Living alone and growing flowers
For the morning services, or to take to the ill,
Baskets with beautiful flowers he'd fill.

"Twenty years — and now today he stands
With the same old smile and outstretched hands
To welcome John and Mary and Paul,
Jane and Joe — he knows them all.
He has helped them live, he has helped them wed,
Comforted their sorrow and buried their dead,
He's baptized their children and watched them grow—
No wonder the children love him so.

"Twenty years — he has married their children, too,
The only pastor they ever knew.
He has felt their kisses upon his cheek
He has listened intently whenever they speak,
His hand has patted each little head,
They followed the path wherever his tread;
He is part of their lives. He is dear to each heart
And he's cherished each little life from the start.

"Twenty years of struggles, disappointments, cares,
Twenty years of courage, faith and prayers.
He built a church when the days were bright
And suddenly clouds as black as night,
Shadowed the picture. There were years of doubt,
There were years of working and doing without,
And his flock slipped away, save the faithful few,
But he went right on — There was work to do.
No depression, no sorrow, no hurt could kill
The spirit eternal in his dauntless will,
The window in the front of his church was kept bright,
The Good Shepherd hunting the sheep in the night.

"The faith of this man, so gentle— so fine,
Preaching the words of the Father divine.
Living the life that his master had taught,
Like Christ, the lambs that have strayed he has sought
In sickness, in death, in trouble he heeds
The call of humanity—spreading good deeds,
No person too humble—no task is too great.
He's a friend to all people no matter their fate,
Wherever they come from they need but to call
He's God's messenger here and a brother to all."

John Garfield Proves His Right To Stardom In 'Blackwell's Island'

John Garfield, undoubtedly the most impressive newcomer to the screen of the past year, who gave further indication of his rise to stardom in the recent "They Made Me a Criminal," has the starring role in "Blackwell's Island," a Warner Bros. picture based upon the fantastic jail scandal that shocked New Yorkers several years ago, which opens tomorrow at the Liberty theatre.

In addition to the actors named, other important roles are taken by Rosemary Lane, Victor Jory, Morgan Conway, Granville Bates, Anthony Averill, Peggy Shannon and Charley Foy. The production was directed by William McGann, who proved his ability to turn out a good prison picture by his direction of "Alcatraz Island."

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Seek Passage Of Relief Bill By Friday Night

house appropriations committee and the President for WPA in the year starting July 1.

Other Amendments

Other amendments to be offered would:

1. Seek to restore $42,000,000 cut by the committee from budget recommendations for the National Youth Administration, for which the bill provides $81,,000,000.

2. Propose elimination of the $25,000 limit placed on WPA construction projects.

3. Provide for turning over relief administration to the states.

While the house was continuing its three-dy debate, word passed around the cloakrooms the appropriations committee would seek another $200,000 for carrying on its WPA investigation during the summer.

The investigating subcommittee was allocated $25,000 originally, but it indicated yesterday that it was not through. It will submit a partial report soon.

Bradley said he would seek an appropriation "more adequately to take care of relief on the basis of the present load." He noted that the bill would provide for an average relief employment next year of slightly more than 2,000,000 persons, or a cut of 1,000,000 by June, 1940.

The committee said the program contemplated a reduction from an average of 2,500,000 in June, 1939, to 1,500,000 in June, 1940, but quoted President Roosevelt as saying expectation of an upward trend in employment was justified.

Woodrum told the house that the bill would provide one-third less than relief funds for the current year, would give more jobs through a system of rotating WPA work, and would "strike a body blow at relief racketeering."

Help Carry Burden

"Time and again," he said, "Mayors and governors have come waxing eloquent about the federal relief program and bragging in the next breath about their balanced budgets in their own communities. This bill undertakes to fasten responsibility on some of those localities and compel them to carry their part of the burden."

There was so much applause when Woodrum, leader of the house economy bloc, finished a 30 minute speech that he resumed. Twice more he stopped, only to be urged to continue.

Among other changes, the bill provides for a three man board instead of a single administrator to run the WPA, apportioning relief money on the "basis of jobs instead of money," elimination of the federal theater project, stronger bans on political activity of supervisory employes, a requirement that they take an oath to defend the constitution, and elimination of any funds for direct relief.

It also earmarks $125,000,000 of the WPA fund for the public works administration for construction under the grant-and-loan method.

Reviewing the WPA investigation, Woodrum said it produced "unmistakable, irrefutable evidence that an overwhelming majority of the workers alliance (an organization of WPA workers) are well known Communists."

Explaining the provision for eliminating the federal theater project, Woodrum said it was "overloaded administratively."

One of the current attractions, "sing for your supper," now running in New York, he continued, was in rehearsal 15 or 16 months.

"I have here the manuscript x x x. If there is a line or a passage in it that contributes to the cultural or educational benefit or uplift of America, I will eat the whole manuscript, and I am not particularly fond of that kind of diet."

He explained that other similar projects—art, music, writers and historical records—would be stopped as federal projects after Aug. 31, but could be continued if local communities sponsored them and defrayed 25 per cent of the cost.

Suggest Investing In Business Securities

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—A business man suggested to the Senate Finance Committee today that the government invest some of its billions from social security taxes in the securities of industry and business. The entire fund now is invested in federal bonds.

The witness, who discussed proposed amendments to the Social Security law, was Jay Iglauer, Cleveland department store executive and chairman of the taxation committee of the National Retail Dry Goods association.

Farm Population of The Nation Grows

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—The nation's farm population is near the 1910 peak of 32,077,000 persons, the agriculture department estimated today. On January 1 it was placed at about 32,000,000, compared with 31,-819,000 a year earlier.

Factors said to have accounted for the increase were reduced migration from drought areas, the generally low level of industrial employment in 1938, and an excess of births over deaths.

More In Social Security In The State Is Dim

New Revenue Be Necessary Before Any Increase

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—(AP)—Any legislative hope of increasing the 1939-40 social security allotments without finding new revenue sources appeared extremely dim today with senate-house conference committee action complete on most major appropriations bills.

The joint committee set to work in the face of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark's warning that "a dire crisis will occur in the next few months" unless more relief money is found, but succeeded in trimming the funding measures only $145,000 below the executive's estimate of general revenue in the biennium.

This $145,000 compares with an estimate of state relief officials that $15,000,000 more will be needed for the two years than is carried in the house-adopted $29,750,000 social security bill.

Conference reports on five major appropriations measures awaiting action by the two branches and one bill already signed by the governor carry $32,028,680 from general revenue. The disputed bills include the civil list, educational institutions and omnibus.

A total of $62,234,384 from general revenue is obtained by adding $455,705 in the legislative expense measure and $29,750,-000 in the social security measure. The two latter bills still are in senate committee.

Short of Estimate

This total is just $145,419 short of Stark's estimate of $62,379,-803 for revenue in 1939-40.

The governor's estimate did not take into account $1,857,471 of unpaid 1938 bills which were met this year. If these bills were considered, the legislature would have over-appropriated the revenue by more than $1,700,000 but budget department officials believe they can be disregarded because a similar number of bills probably will spill over into 1941 at the end of the current two-year period.

The governor recommended to the assembly that $4,000,000 for direct relief could be obtained by taking University of Missouri appropriations from the state school fund instead of the general revenue but the lawmakers have not shown much disposition to follow the suggestion.

Indications are the senate appropriations committee will seek to dump the problem into the lap of the social security commission by lumping all of its allotment together and letting it distribute the money as it sees fit.

This probably would mean a reduction in old age grants to obtain a larger share for direct relief and aid to dependent children. In the house-passed bill, $19,000,000 of the $29,750,000 was allocated to old age assistance.

Would Demand Work Program

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—President John L. Lewis told CIO executive board today that any candidate seeking office in 1940 "will have to be qualified to offer a program that will give people work.

Lewis disclosed at a press conference that he had told the concluding session of the board's mid-year meeting that unemployment was America's number one problem and "must be solved."

Fix Blame On Germany Over Two Disasters

tified that neither the German commissioner, nor his nation, would participate in any further proceedings of the tribunal.

Justice Roberts then announced that since the Germans and the Americans had disagreed it was up to him as umpire to decide the case.

Robert Bonynge, the American agent, told the commission "in view of the attitude of Germany it is apparent Germany seeks to frustrate the moves of the commission."

Bonynge asked Roberts whether the awards could be immediately granted.

After conferring a moment with Commissioner Garnett, Roberts said the commission was prepared to sign awards as submitted by the American agents.

Claimants against Germany included the Lehigh Valley railroad, the agency of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, Bethlehem Steel Company, the Delaware, and Western railroad and insurance underwriters. The original claims totalled about $22,500,000, to which was added interest for more than twenty years.

There is in the treasury a special German deposit account of about $20,000,000 and bonds with a face value of $500,000,000. It has been said unofficially, however, that the bonds are virtually worthless as a surety for a judgment.

Negro Congressman Favors Third Term

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP) Representative Mitchell (D-Ill), the only Negro member of congress, called on his party today to "draft President Roosevelt for a third term."

Mitchell said in a statement he did not believe Negroes generally would support a "reactionary Democrat" for president, adding:

"The great bulk of Negro youths would vote for a Republican reactionary in preference to a Democratic reactionary."

He said he based his views on opinions expressed to him during a recent trip through one third of the states.

• Obituary

George H. Robertson

J. Fred Robertson, 1610 South Carr avenue, has received word of the death of his uncle, George H. Robertson, aged 81, which occurred June 9 at his home near Dora, Mo., in Douglas county.

Mr. Robertson formerly lived on a farm south of LaMonte, leaving that location about twenty-five years ago.

Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Laura Robertson.

Funeral services were at Dora last Saturday.

Ultimatum On Shipping Line

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15—(AP)—A defiant west coast maritime union told the United States Maritime Commission in effect today that the government would operate a proposed trans-Pacific shipping line under union conditions or not at all.

The ultimatum was delivered by Harry Lundeberg, secretary-treasurer of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, which is in bitter dispute with the commission over the hiring policy.

It followed a Washington announcement by the commission that ships for a proposed Seattle-Orient service would be withdrawn unless crews were selected under commission rules by noon Friday, for the first sailing.

The commission demands that crews be hired from lists of men registered with the United States Shipping Commissioner at Seattle, and the sailors union is adamant in demanding seaman be hired through its union hiring hall.

Lundeberg said any crew signed on from the shipping commissioner's lists would not be able to board ship.

"The teamsters will not go through our picket line," Lundeberg asserted. "How are they going to load the ship if the teamsters won't bring in the cargo? How can they sail without any cargo?"

The union leader accused the Maritime Commission of seeking to "break" the unions and declared "everything was moving smoothly until the commission muscled in."

There has been no American Flag service across the Pacific from Puget sound since the American Mail lines, subsidiary of the Dollar lines, suspended service several years ago. The Dollar lines was taken over by the government to become the American President lines.

The Parent Teachers Association of Beaman met Friday night at the school. A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Loran Arnett.

"Sweet Bye and Bye" and "Revive Us Again," were sung by all. Prayer was by E. C. Fischer. A short poem was read by Mrs. Arnett. The meeting was turned over to the program chairman, O. E. Richards, who called the roll, and as this was done each one responded with a part to make up the program.

It was a follows:

The meeting was turned over to the social committee, and as they prepared the repast, the Lookout Hill Billy Band, composed of E. C. Fischer, violin; Joe Shaw, harmonica; Milton Fischer, guitar; and Mrs. R. P. Wood, piano, played old time music.

The next meeting will be July 14.

Refugees Express Their Joyousness

PARIS, June 15—(AP)—The 907 German Jewish refugees aboard the liner St. Louis today radioed to relief workers here expressing joy after "Deepest despair" that they would not be compelled to return to Nazi Germany.

The St. Louis is bringing them back to Europe after their failure to gain entrance into Cuba. Groups of about 250 each are to be transported from Antwerp to France, England and the Belgian interior and the rest sent to the Netherlands. The refugees have been granted temporary asylum in the four nations upon guarantees they would not become public charges.

Italian Aviators Are Home From Spain

GENOA, une 15—(AP)—A group of 2,800 Italian aviators came home today from Spain where they helped Generalissimo Franco win the Spanish Civil War.

Officials said they were the last of 6,000 Italian airmen sent to Spain.

Babe Snatched Was Suffocated

after being snatched from his cradle.

Sheriff H. L. Myers and coroner D. W. Philo concurred in the suffocation theory after an autopsy showed death was not due to drowning.

"I have not what I consider one convicting clew," the sheriff said as the intensified hunt went into its second day. "We have no good suspects but fair prospects."

After an autopsy last night, Coroner Philo said: "The lungs were not water-logged. Therefore death definitely was not due to drowning. Death probably was due to suffocation from the blanket taken with the baby. Preliminary examination disclosed no trace of poison."

Sheriff Myers ordered deputies to the creek with hooks to search for the blanket in which the baby was wrapped when stolen from the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Baker.

A "mysterious stranger" seen in this northern Ohio town of 3,100 seemed to furnish the best lead in the case.

The baby's mother, Mrs. Irvin Baker Fink, 22, divorced from the father, 23, had told Sheriff Myers about a stranger who approached her near her home Tuesday night and inquired directions to a neighbor's.

Today a woman residing five blocks from the Baker home said she heard a car stop near her home between 9 and 11 p. m. Tuesday. (The baby was stolen between 10 and 11 p. m.) she said she heard a baby cry and two or more persons talking in the auto.

A few minutes later the car drove a short distance past her house, stopped again and a stranger got out and put "a bundle or something" into the rear compartment, she declared.

The woman told Sheriff Myers she flashed a light toward the auto and the man hurriedly got in and drove away.

A dog that failed to bark and a mystery telephone call were other clews.

Edwin Baker, 20 brother of the baby's mother, said he believed the family dog, "rags," would have barked if a stranger entered the house to seize the child. He said the dog was in either the dining or living room when the child disappeared from an adjoining room.

Nearby Fremont police reported an unidentified woman telephoned three hours before the baby was missed, asking the location of the "nearest Federal Bureau of Investigation office."

When told the nearest office of the F. B. I. was in Cleveland, the woman asked: "Is there one at Toledo?" She said nothing more.

J. R. O'Hara, an F. B. I. man, has been aiding Sheriff Myers. The sheriff indicated that all members of the family would be questioned further.

King And Queen Sail Tonight

By Frank H. King

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, June 15—(AP)—King George and Queen Elizabeth today bade farewell by radio to Canada and the United States, which the departing monarch termed "a large part of the earth where there is no possibility of war between neighbors."

"By God's grace yours may yet be the example which all the world will follow," the king said in a broadcast to the British empire and the United States in which the queen joined, making her first formal radio address.

Queen Elizabeth said she wanted "particularly to tell the women and children of Canada how glad I am to have seen so many of them.

"What has warmed my heart in a way I cannot express in words is the proof you have given us everywhere that you were glad to see us.

"To the people of Canada and to all the kind people in the United States who welcomed us so warmly last week—to one and all of this great friendly continent, I say thank you. God be with you and God bless you."

Their majesties spoke at an official luncheon given by the Nova Scotia government as their historic 9,401-mile tour across the continent and back came to a close.

Sharecroppers To Have Refuge

ST. LOUIS, June 15— (AP) — Sharecropper families who have had no home since the roadside demonstration in southeast Missouri last winter will find refuge on a 90-acre tract of land near Poplar Bluff, it was announced today by the Rev. Owen H. Whitfield, negro preacher who organized the cotton field workers.

About 100 families have been living in negro church buildings near Charleston and at other temporary shelters.

The tract, which includes 65 acres of timber and 25 acres of cleared land, was bought by the Missouri Agricultural Workers' council, a CIO affiliate, with the aid of contributions from the St. Louis Committee for Rehabilitation of the Sharecropper, Whitfield said.

He explained the land will be occupied immediately and that construction of shelters would begin.

When the state highway patrol forced the demonstrators—protesting against wage and living conditions — to abandon their crude roadside camps, 39 families established themselves at the Sweet Home Baptist church, nine families at the nearby Bethlehem church, 18 families in an old dance hall, and similar groups near Dorena and Marston, in Mississippi and New Madrid counties.

At Charleston, a judgment in default was returned this morning in an ejection suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Byrne, owners of the Sweet Home church property. Circuit Judge Frank Kelly granted a 30-day stay of execution to give the negro families time to move to their new location.

Claims Poisoning Due 'Evil Eye'

PHILADELPHIA, June 15—(AP) Sobbing wildly, a new prisoner in Philadelphia's vast insurance-murder case testified today he was forced under the influence of witchcraft and the "evil eye" to feed his wife poisoned spaghetti.

The husband, Dominck F. Cassetti, 48-year-old clothing factory presser, was held without bail for court on a charge of murdering his 37-year-old wife Jennie.

"I loved my wife," he told Judge Harry S. McDevitt, "but I was forced to give her powders. Now she is dead, I am in jail and my children are running the streets. What shall I do?"

Judge McDevitt advised:

"Control yourself. You'll get speedy justice."

Cassetti charged the "evil eye" practitioners were two women, now being sought by the federal bureau of investigation.

Meanwhile, another man was held and one released by investigators rounding up for use at trials information about the ring that the state charges conspired to collect thousands of dollars of insurance and killed 50 to 100 persons in a half-dozen eastern states.

John Polensky, president of a Ukranian society, was held in $2,000 bail as a material witness in an "automobile accident" death charged to the ring.

Released of any connection with the murder plot was Joseph Peppe, a former state employe who had been questioned about the death of his sister. Police crossed her name off the list of the rings victims.

Slain In An Argument Over Horseshoes

PHELPS, Ky., June 15.—(AP)—An argument over the disappearance of horseshoes used for "barnyard golf" at a country store left one man dead and another critically wounded today.

John Riddle, 33, store owner, was shot to death and attendants at a Williamson hospital described as critical the condition of Howard Hurley, 44, shot in the abdomen.

Pike county officers said they were holding Hurley's three sons for questioning.

Peace By Labor Forces Remote

not want peace because peace would automatically end his autocratic control of a minority group in organized labor. The public can now judge by the intemperate character of Mr. Lewis' statement the sort of a man he is and why he is responsible for the failure to reach peace."

Lewis' blast against the AFL was his first public statement on labor unity since early in April, when he asked the AFL conferees for an indefinite postponement of the negotiations during discussion of a new coal mining contract.

Lewis once suggested the breach be closed by merging the CIO, AFL and the Independent Railroad Brotherhoods into a single labor movement in which neither he nor Green could hold office.

The AFL clung to its traditional non-partisan political policy, while the CIO called for united political action and supported to a large extent the New Deal administration and its program.

The struggle spread from the industrial front into congressional halls, culminating in the present controversy over the AFL's demand for changes in the Wagner Act.

Resist Move To Distribute Big Risk Fund

(Please Turn to Page 6, Column 7)

Street, or the said committee or any other person to commit bribery or pay moneys to induce official action or consent to so doing or know thereof . . . ."

The companies denied they planned, abetted or participated in or had any knowledge of the bribery.

They "did pay moneys to Street upon the belief that the same would be employed for lawful purposes only and that plaintiffs had no knowledge or diversion of said moneys or that they would be diverted to unlawful purposes."

If the court, composed of Judges Kimbrough Stone, Merrill E. Otis and Albert L. Reeves, which approved the settlement in 1935, accepts the companies' answers, there would be only a loss of time in the litigation. Companies would not suffer a return of rates that existed prior to May, 1935.

The companies said all funds distributed to them from the impounded premiums would be restored to the court's custodian by July 1. In the compromise twenty per cent of the total was returned to policyholders an dthe remainder went to the companies.

In the petition, the companies offer the state insurance department an agreement to set aside the rate order of May 21, 1935, which grew out of the compromise, and assert if the state refuses to nullify the settlement and the rate order, then it implies it has not been aggrieved and the final decree should stand and the funds returned to the companies.

That failing, the companies claim the court cannot order distribution of the funds except on a hearing of merits of the rate case without regard to the compromise.

Claiming the compromise was disadvantageous to the companies, they list their losses as $500,000 in fees to state lawyers, $169,000 paid to the state insurance superintendent and the 20 per cent of the impounded funds distributed to policyholders which they said is gone beyond recall. The companies under the compromise paid litigation costs of the case from their 80 per cent take. No mention of loss is made concerning the $460,000 paid to Street to use in bringing the settlement.

Jail For Two In An Assault Case

Harry Paxton, charged with common assault upon Walter Donahoe and Lyle Trueblood, pleaded guilty to Judge Charles W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Paxton was accused with several other boys, Cline Holman, who was also given thirty days in the county jail, and Dean Murray, Elmer Comer and Fred Gehlken with attacking Donahoe and Trueblood near Sixth street and Ohio avenue last Monday night.

Murray, Comer and Gehlken will probably be in juvenile court.

Convicts Escape From Prison Sawmill

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15—(AP)—John Woodrow Eaton, 27, and Harley Lynn, 23, convicts serving terms on grand larceny charges, escaped from the state prison saw mill at Tebbetts, nine miles east of here, last night.

Easton was sentenced from St. Louis county for three years in January, 1938, and Lynn was received from Jasper county in March, 1937, for a five-year term.

Tense Episode In A Blockade Is Relieved

light tanks into position only a few yards away.

Kulangsu, the Amoy foreign zone, had felt the effect of a Japanese blockade previously this month but the first blockade was lifted when an earlier dispute was settled. At Tientsin, hotels reported food supplies sufficient for only a week with deliveries of new foodstuffs reduced almost to nothing.

In answer to what the British foreign office construed as a Japanese challenge to British "rights and interests," it was proposed in the house of commons that Japanese be prohibited from using the British ports of Hongkong, Singapore and Penang.

In Moscow, the British and French ambassadors requested an appointment with Soviet Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff as the arrival of William Strang, Britain's special envoy, set the wheels in motion again for negotiation of British-French-Russian mutual assistance proposals.

Dr. Karl Burckhardt, League of Nations high commissioner for the free city of Danzig, was reported in Geneva to have decided to return to his post as a result of German assurances that no serious tension over the free city could be expected before September.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, leaving behind a trail of personal triumph in the United States and Canada, came to the end of their epochal tour of the western world. Halifax, capital of Nova Scotia and the last provincial capital on their itinerary, whipped up a furore of welcome for their majesties who sail tonight on the liner Empress of Britain for England.

Protest On Search

TIENTSIN, June 15—(AP)—While British and Japanese troops faced each other across barricades tonight a strong British note to the Japanese authorities insisted on "immediate steps" to end the stopping and searching of British subjects by Japanese soldiers blockading the British subjects by Japanese soldiers blockading the British and French concessions.

Edgar G. Jamieson, British consul-general, in a vigorous protest to Japanese diplomatic authorities against the blockade, also charged that British shipping on the Hai river, Tientsin's outlet to the sea, was being stopped and searched by the Japanese and demanded that this cease.

Jamieson declared that the Japanese manning the barricades at the concessions' exits were "discriminating against British from among the foreign community of Tientsin." Britons have declared that Japanese guards compelled them to strip to the waist and submit to search when crossing concession boundaries.

During the day British infantrymen with fixed bayonets were stationed at one entrance to their concession while tension increased in the crisis which brought on the Japanese blockade yesterday.

Exchanges Take Place

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today exchanges of information with regard to Japan's blockade at Tientsin, China, were taking place among the interested capitals—London, Paris, Tokyo, and Washington.

He said, however, he had no information on the subject of possible joint action by Britain, France and the United States at Tientsin.

Referring to his statement yesterday that state department representatives at Tientsin would do all possible, within their functions, to pacify the situation, Hull said he had only in mind the possibility of good offices and nothing beyond that.

Just before his press conference, the secretary of state saw President Roosevelt. He said their subject of conversation had not been the Far East, however, but relations with Mexico.

More Toward Revision On Legal Procedure

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15—(AP)—The legislature made a move toward revision of the state's code of legal procedure today by inviting the supreme court to suggest changes for consideration at the next session.

A house-approved resolution asking the court's recommendation was adopted unanimously by the senate after Sen. Allen McReynolds (D), Carthage, reported:

"I have conferred with the chief justice and he informs me the court would be glad to present suggestions for meeting criticisms which have been levelled at our present code of practice.

The code reform bill, sponsored by the State Bar Association, died in a house committee early in the current session.

Honor to Sedalia Girl at Kansas City

Miss Donley Dulaney White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbell White, 214 East Sixth street, will receive the grand honor, and be presented in the east, by the Daughters of the Rainbow Girls, in Kansas City tonight.

Miss White went through all the chairs of the organization in Clinton, her former home. She is in Kansas City on a vacation, and the honor will be bestowed while she is there.

Memory Vague Over Party At Capital City

Dancer Witness In Mail Fraud Case On Trial

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—A pretty dancer, who went with a promoter to Washington on what the government calls a "beauty lobby" supplied with "enough liquor to make a regiment drunk," described the junket in federal court Wednesday as only a dim memory. She said she didn't recall whom she met.

Then, red-haired, freckled Noel Carter, the first prosecution witness at the trial of William P. Buckner, Jr., and others for mail fraud in the alleged manipulation of Philippine railway bonds, left to catch a liner bound for Europe, where she will join the London company of the Broadway hit show "Hellzapoppin."

Thus the beginning of the trial held to the same fast pace the government attributes to Buckner, a satellite of the Hollywood moving star colony, in the alleged skying of defaulted railway bonds of the far away Philippines.

All Star Cast

Nothing was lacking except footlights and curtain for the melodrama which opened in the courtroom with an international all-star cast from stage, screen and radio, as they say—not to mention politics, society and finance.

Produced by the government, the piece was written around Buckner, a dapper young financier, night clubber, and friend of Loretta Young.

In a prelude, Assistant U. S. Attorney William P. Maloney charged Buckner and a co-defendant, William J. Gillespie, a broker, took a "lobby of lovely ladies" to Washington and used large amounts of liquor in an effort to influence legislation in behalf of their scheme.

Miss Carter said that in 1937, after a series of "little parties," she flew to Washington with Buckner and stayed overnight at the Carlton hotel.

Memory Is Dim

"I don't remember whom I met," she said, when asked if she had encountered any federal officials, "but there was nothing official about the trip."

More brilliant performances than Miss Carter's were promised to the autograph-hound audience when Maloney read a list of persons figuring in the case to see if any of the jurors were acquainted with them. The list included:

President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine Islands, Loretta Young, who is expected to testify for Buckner; Ronald Colman, Miriam Hopkins, Bing Crosby, Frank Morgan and Herbert Marshall, all Hollywood stars; Percy Payne, 2nd, New York socialite; Byrnes MacDonald of Mayor LaGuardia's staff; and Samuel Rosoff, subway builder.

• Today's Patterns

By CAROL DAY

For an afternoon of bridge, or a very important tea date, make it in the short length. For dancing, make it in formal length, billowing about your feet seductively. Either way, the dress in Pattern 8487 is fashion's favorite for summer festivities, and to get a fashion so smart, in a pattern you can quickly and inexpensively make yourself, is indeed a triumph.

The square, shallow neckline, the petal-like sleeves, the microscopic waistline, high and pointed in the front, all have the Victorian charm that's now so much the rage, and they are all extremely becoming to the young and slim. Make this of organdy, eyelet emprobiery, net or taffeta, and tie a velvet ribbon around your waist.

Pattern No. 8487 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires, for formal length, 6 5-8 yards of 39-inch material without nap; 5 1-3 yards, without nap, for afternoon length.

The new Spring and Summer Pattern Book, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Spring and Summer Pattern Book—25c. Pattern or book alone—15c.

The Winner Flashes A Smile

Gov. Lloyd Stark (right) had a big smile on his face after the state legislature gave him control of the Kansas City police department, another blow at the weakened Pendergast Democratic machine. With the governor at Jefferson City, after the vote, is W. B. Weakley, author of the police bill.

They were at Niagara Falls when King George and Queen Elizabeth, passed through there en route to the United States, and saw the distinguished couple. They also visited in Washington, D. C., New York City, where they attended the World's Fair, Boston, Mass., and points of interest in Canada. The party also saw the quintuplets in Canada.

Report On REA Is Favorable

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—(AP)—Rural electrification legislation which brought a sharp exchange between a Washington official and a member of the state senate last week, was reported favorably by the senate agriculture committee today.

Three senate bills and a house-approved "model" bill were sent out by the committee. Enactment of any one of them would authorize operation of Missouri rural electric co-operatives as non-profit associations.

John Dalton of Kennett, an attorney for several rural electrification projects, told the committee yesterday there was a potential membership of 28,000 in the 27 co-operatives now in the state. Sponsors contended enactment of a state law was necessary to clarify the legal status of the co-operatives.

The committee put several amendments on the house bill which reached the senate last week and brought a prompt protest from John Carmody, REA administrator in Washington, that Committee Chairman Charles O. Roberson (D), Rockport, was blocking action on the bill.

Carmody wired Gov. Lloyd C. Stark that Sen. Roberson was "refusing to call a meeting of his committee" and thus delaying consideration of the bill.

"I resent your impertinence," Roberson wired back. He explained that almost constant senate sessions had made it impossible for his committee to meet before yesterday. No reference was made to the Carmody incident during yesterday's committee session.

Federal Income Over Estimate

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Federal income passed substantially today the revenue which President Roosevelt estimated in his January budget message would be received in the fiscal year closing June 30.

Officials consequently expect the year's deficit to be about $500,000,000 less than the $4,072,259,000 forecast by the President in January.

This was the deadline for paying the second installment of 1938 income taxes, and more than $400,000,000 was expected to be put in the hands of federal collectors.

On June 12, the last day for which accurate figures are available, the fiscal year collections already totaled $5,237,929,346, indicating, officials said, a minimum year-end total of $5,700,000,000. In January, the President anticipated only $5,520,070,000 in receipts.

CIO Workers Sue An AFL Group

NEW YORK, June 15.—(AP)—The CIO's United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America sued the AFL's International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and others today, asking an injunction against an alleged boycott of goods made with CIO labor, and damages of some $250,000.

Among the defendants were two of the AFL union's locals, seven of its officers, 13 New York contractors and the National Electrical Products Corporation, a manufacturing concern.

The complaint alleged that members of the defendant AFL unions had refused to install radios and other electrical equipment manufactured in plants operating under CIO labor contracts. It charged, too, that the defendants instituted a national boycott against electrical equipment manufacturing plants using CIO labor.

Truck And Bus Bill To Senate

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15—(AP)—The administration bus and truck bill came up on the senate floor today and met an immediate attack by amendments seeking to exempt private truckers from the public service commission fees and regulations it proposes.

The bill — a compromise committee substitute for a house passed measure — would add an estimated $1,000,000 yearly in highway revenue by imposing PSC permit fees on private and contract carriers as well as upon the common carriers now levied against.

The noon recess interrupted debate soon after Sen. James C. McDowell (D), Charleston, offered the amendment to exempt private trucks.

Consideration of a companion measure raising truck license tag fees has been postponed by an attempt of Sen. L. N. Searcy (D) Eminence, to attach his three-cent gasoline tax proposal.

When a point of order was raised against his amendment incorporating the gasoline tax hike Searcy withdrew it — but said he would re-offer it later despite Lieut. Gov. Harris' indication that he would sustain the point of order. The bill itself was then temporarily withdrawn.

Opponents of Searcy's move contended it violated the constitution by "changing the purpose" of the bill.

The license tag bill as passed by the house would add an estimated $800,000 a year to highway income by virtually doubling the truck charges.

Sponsors claim the two measures would increase road funds by nearly $2,000,000 a year and thus meet the "financial crisis" the highway department claims.

The highway commission, however, has expressed preference for the Searcy gas tax increase, which also passed the house.

No Hint Given on Future Price of Silver

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today the treasury would give no hint of its future price for domestically-mined silver until the night of June 30.

The present figure of 64.64 cents per ounce was fixed in a presidential proclamation which expires June 30.

Morgenthau, at his press conference, approved the tentative tax revision bill drafted by the house ways and means committee, and said it corresponded to the recommendations he made to the committee recently.

Learn to Watch Food Markets For "Best Buy of the Month"

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer

BREAKFAST: Tomato and lemon juice, buttered toast, crisp bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHON: Scrambled eggs, rolls, mixed green salad, frosted cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fruit cup, casserole of leftover veal, parsley, new potatoes, buttered peas, bread and butter, strawberry whip, coffee, milk.

To keep within a low-cost food budget a penny-wise bride will buy fruits, vegetables and meats when they are most abundant, and therefore cheapest. Only in that way can she get quality and quantity for her money.

May and early June have peak strawberry crops; Bermuda onions from Texas are at their best then. The better grade beef, fresh pork, spring lamb, butter, broiling chickens and practically all green vegetables are also in their peak at this time. Therefore build your menus around these foods, and as the season changes, build it around the next foods to reach their peak.

Study the market reports published in your local newspaper. Budget marketing is not so much a matter of self-denial as it is a matter of intelligence and a knowledge of menu making within the peak supplies.

Strawberry Whip
(Serves 2—with enough for luncheon next day)

One cup fresh strawberries, cut in pieces, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon gelatin, 1 tablespoon cold water, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 1 egg white, pinch salt.

Mash strawberries. Rub through course sieve. Sombine with lemon juice. Soften gelatin in warm water. Add to strawberry mixture and chill until it begins to thicken. Then add sugar, unbeaten egg white and salt. Stand on cracked ice and beat with rotary beater until mixture is firm enough to hold its shape. Then turn into dessert glasses and chill.

Use that left-over yolk in a cream sauce. Add to sauce, cubed left-over fish, or veal or chicken. Season well, turn into casserole, dust with cheese or cracker crumbs and bake in moderate oven for about 20 minutes.

For Busy People
We serve at all times, your choice of several delicious lunches ..... 25¢

Lower Trend On Grain Market

CHICAGO, June 15—(AP)—Wheat prices turned lower today largely because of selling based on upward revision of private Kansas crop estimates and favorable crop reports from Canada. The moisture situation in the Canadian prairie provinces was reported to be better than normal over most of the belt.

The sagging trend of wheat quotations, after an early upturn, was in the face of greatly expanded purchasing of North American grain, mostly Canadian, and imported domestic mill demand. Export sales of North American wheat were estimated at 2,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed ⅛c to ¾c lower than yesterday, July 73⅛c to 73c, September 73¾c to 73⅝c; corn unchanged to ¾c down, July 49½c, Sep. 50¾c to 50⅞c; oats ½c to ¾c down.

Stocks Take A Moderate Dip

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Stocks generally sang a losing refrain in today's market and most buyers walked out on the concert.

Losses ran to a point or so for leaders after an indifferent start. One or two isolated set-backs of around 4 were observed. At that, a handful of issues managed to finish on the upside. Transfers approximated 600,000 shares.

Brokers, always hunting for a scapegoat, were disposed to put the blame for the downward slant partly on renewed apprehension over foreign affairs, principally the far eastern British-Japanese crisis which, some feared, might conceivable involve the United States if not adjusted soon. In addition, thought was given the latest German-Slovak developments with the idea these had the makings of a new European explosion. Securities at London dipped, steadied at Amsterdam and were irregular in Paris.

On the home front hopes persisted for constructive congressional action on tax revision, railway relief legislation and other measures advocated as stimulants for industry. Business news, on the whole, was still fairly promising.

Cherry Meringue Pie

1 package Kool-Aid (cherry)
4 level tablespoons corn starch
2 level tablespoons flour
1 level tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon almond or lemon extract
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
½ cup cold water

Mix starch, flour, sugar and salt. Whip yolks of eggs in the ½ cup cold water and add to dry mixture, mixing well. Add butter and 2 cups boiling water, cook and stir constantly until it thickens. Remove from fire and add the extract and Kool-Aid and mix well; pour into baked pie crust, using the egg whites for meringue.

Alternate Sauce and Vegetables

Make a light white sauce; heat butter in saucepan, add scraped or grated onion, stir in flour, then slowly add milk. Season and add 1 teaspoon lemon juice. In baking dish or casserole, place a little of the sauce in bottom, then cover with assortment of all the vegetables. Then another layer of sauce, then another of vegetables until dish is nearly filled, ending with sauce. Scatter cheese over top and dust with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) for about 20 or 25 minutes.

Waffled Wafers

A WARM weather trick is to make crisp little biscuit sandwiches in a waffle iron! Between two rounds of biscuit dough spread a filling of devilled meat, chopped olives or any other tasty sandwich spread. Then "waffle" the biscuit sandwiches in a hot waffle iron. These are especially good with summer salads and beverages.

WAFFLED WAFERS

2 cups sifted soft wheat flour
¾ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 - 4 tablespoons shortening
2¾ - 3¼ cup milk
¾ cup devilled ham

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a soft dough, stirring just enough to make ingredients hold together. Turn out on lightly floured board, knead gently for a half minute. Roll out dough ¼ inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter. Spread half the biscuits with sandwich spread, cover with another biscuit. Place a "sandwich" in each section of a hot waffle iron and bake until well browned, about 3½ minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 9 wafers.

Tested Kool-Aid Receipts

Complete directions are given on every package of Kool-Aid for the making of Kool-Aid drinks, frozen suckers and ice cubes. Additional recipes are to be found on the inner envelope and there are many other uses for the product in frozen desserts, for coloring and flavoring, or making imitation jelly, pies, cakes, cake icing, puddings, dressings, candies, etc. On this sheet we give a few more suggestions for Kool-Aid uses. Your own ideas will be appreciated.

Tonight Is Ladies' Night At Ball Game

Sugar Creek To Play Merchants In First Free Game To Ladies

It will be Ladies Night, if weather permits, at the Liberty Park where the Sedalia Merchants will play host to the Sugar Creek ball club of Kansas City. The game will be called at 8:15 o'clock by Umpire Rugen.

The Merchants are endeavoring to get the women out to their ball games by letting them in "all-free" tonight so they can see the home town boys go against the "sweeties" of Sugar Creek.

Al Schrick has been elected by Manager Siegel to take over the mound duties while Lindsell will be the opposing hurler.

In 1938 the Sugar Creek aggregation was defeated under the lights of the Liberty Park diamond 7 to 2 by the old A's. Still smarting from this defeat, although it is more than a year old, the visitors hope to even things up and come back later in the season.

The Merchants club hopes for a large crowd tonight to help defray the expense of the high powered lights, which had to burn overtime last Tuesday when an eleven inning game was played with the All Stars of the Central Missouri Teachers College from Warrensburg.

This was an interesting contest in spite of the sixteen errors marked up against the two teams. The score eventually ended six to four with the visitors being the victor. Several remarkable plays were made during the game to make up for any "bobbles" which occurred, according to many of the paying customers.

The lineups:

Sugar Creek — Maglish, ss; Rosgay 3b; A. Vida cf; Beal lf; Lopsich 1b; Novak c; Poyer rf; Farrand 2b; Evans p; E. Vida and Lissen p.

Sedalia — Walker ss; Taylor 3b; Slayton cf; Overfelt lf; Livengood 1b; Simon c; Zey fr; Lobaugh 2b; Schick p.

History Of American League Shown On Film

Under a new arrangement completed last week, the St. Louis Browns are now making plans to show the official American league sound film, "First Century of Baseball," which commemorates the centennial of baseball, in out-state communities. To show the film locally, an organization is requested to write the Browns' office at Sportsman's Park.

The national celebration of the 100th year of the national pastime was highlighted by the game at Cooperstown, N. Y., Monday, June 12. The site was Doubleday Field where Abner Doubleday laid out the first plans for a baseball diamond.

The movie traces the story of the development of baseball from the time of Doubleday down to the 1938 World's Series, and is filled with action shots of the great stars of the American league. Hank Greenburg, Joe Dimaggio, Lou Gehrig, Charley Gehringer, George McQuinn, Joe "Flash" Gordon and Charley "Red" Ruffing are among the stars who are shown in the forty minute film.

Lew Fonseca, former Chicago White Sox first baseman, directed the filming of the picture which was professionally handled, and historically accurate.

"First Century of Baseball" has been acclaimed as an excellent summer program for luncheon clubs, church and fraternal societies and recreational centers. The Browns' office will furnish complete information on request.

SINCE THE KruGon CAN DO HIS FARM WORK WITH EASE

Mr. Gunder Declares He would Not Be Without KruGon If It Cost Five Dollars Per Box; "It Was my Lucky Day When I Began The Use of KruGon"

Food, after it is swallowed, remains in the stomach for variable periods depending upon the quantity eaten, the general condition of the stomach and the health of the individual. For an ordinary meal the time of discharge begins in fifteen minutes and continues for three hours. If this length of time is exceeded something is wrong with the stomach. If a person is upset by certain emotions such as hatred, fear, anger, greed or jealousy the food is not properly digested and prepared for the bowel. When this upset occurs and elimination of the food from the system is interferred with, KruGon will prove a wonderful advantage.

For example, read what Mr. J. E. Gunder, a well known highly respected farmer who resides on Route No. 1, Green Ridge, Missouri (near Sedalia), said recently in a statement reaching the McFarland and Robinson Drug Company, 104 West Main St., this city:

"I would not be without KruGon if it cost $5.00 per box," said Mr. Gunder. "For fifteen years I had been troubled with constipation. Poisons settled in my joints and together with terrific muscular pains I was miserable continually. Then too, my stomach simply failed to digest my food properly. After every meal gas would form in great abundance and I would belch up a hot, soured liquid from one meal to the next. I suffered constantly and did not even get relief at night but rolled and tossed unable to get sufficient rest and sleep. I had tried many remedies seeking relief but nothing that I tried had the ability to reach my case."

"But KruGon was different," continued Mr. Gunder, "for it really did the work that I had not even anticipated. All the aches and pains in my body are now relieved and I am able to get about and do my work on the afrm with ease. I do not suffer distress after by meals but my foods digest as they should. My bowels are functioning normally and with proper elimination I rest and sleep well at night, new strength and energy has been given me and I am feeling almost like a different man since the restoration of my good health . . . thanks to KruGon."

KruGon is told by the McFarland and Robinson Drug Company, 104 W. Main St., this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.

Browns' Owners Donate $100,000 To Revive Team

Wealthy Business Men Subscribe Fund To Strengthen Perennial Losers

ST. LOUIS, June 15—(AP)—Major stockholders of the St. Louis Browns, disappointed at the team's poor showing, have subscribed a fund of $100,000 to give the club resources to strengthen itself.

An informed source disclosed that the Browns' ten directors, all wealthy business men, met last week and kicked in $5,000 each to refill the team's diminished treasury. President Donald L. Barnes then added an additional $50,000.

Barnes was reported to have told the directors if they had any complaints or any criticism to offer "now is the time to speak up." Instead, there was a vote of confidence in the front office and the fresh capital was produced.

The first immediate result was the purchase yesterday of Joe Gallagher, hard-hitting young outfielder, from the New York Yankee system. The Browns gave up Infielder Roy Hughes and probably $20,000 in cash.

Barnes and William O. DeWitt, vice-president of the team, declined to answer any questions about the $100,000 "relief fund," but they said the Browns were in the market for any players who would help the team.

Arrest Four In Drug Ring Raids

KANSAS CITY, June 15—(AP)—Federal narcotics agents and city detectives late Wednesday arrested four men and confiscated a supply of narcotics they valued at $35,000.

The officers said the arrests uncovered the largest illegal drug ring now operating in Kansas City since the federal government recently broke up the $12,000,000 syndicate headed by Angelo Donnici, recently sentenced in federal court.

Those arrested: Tony Franks, 41; his brother, Nicholas Franks, 50; Nicholas' son, John Franks, 24, and Sam Cipolla, 22, a taxicab driver.

City Detectives Jack Clifford, Jr., John Flavin, Lester Kircher and R. C. Moore, and four agents of the federal narcotics bureau made the arrests.

The officers said they witnessed a transaction at a park in the northeastern part of the city in which John Franks handed Cipolla one and a half ounces of a drug. They arrested the men and then raided the homes of Tony Franks and Nicholas Franks, where, they said, they discovered the narcotics hidden. The Franks brothers also were arrested.

Elementary Good Sense Regarding Toothbrushes Sometimes Forgotten

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

So much has been published and so much has been said over the radio and in other ways about the care of the mouth and teeth that it would seem hardly likely that anyone could have missed the necessary information. Nevertheless, it is still important, if we can judge by what we see around us, to emphasize that the mouth and teeth are important for health and that their proper care means that they will remain useful longer than they would otherwise.

Brushing of the teeth should begin just as soon as a child is given a mixed diet, and even before this if there is any sign that material is collecting on and around the teeth.

All sorts of claims have been made as to the virtues of one or another type of toothbrush. Actually, of course, there may not be any one type of brush good for every person.

Some people prefer a brush that is not too large; others prefer a smaller one. If the brush is so large that it will not fit between the lips and the cheek and the surfaces of the teeth, it is not a good toothbrush. If the bristles are so hard that they cut the gums, it is not a good toothbrush. If the bristles are so soft that they will not remove the little particles that are between the teeth or on the edges, it is not a good toothbrush. If the bristles are set so close together that debris accumulates inside the brush, it cannot be recommended.

If the bristles are not firmly set in the handle so that they constantly come out or get caught between the teeth or under the gums, the toothbrush may do more harm than good.

Much has also been written about the motion to be used in brushing the teeth. Most dentists recommend that the teeth be brushed by brushing the teeth away from the gum in a rolling or sweeping motion. Some recommend a general up and down motion so as to push the gum away from the teeth. Since the whole purpose of the toothbrush is merely to get the debris and the material on the teeth and on the edges of the gums out of the mouth, the person who is using the toothbrush with a reasonable amount of intelligence can soon find out for himself the best method.

Everyone ought to know how to take care of the toothbrush. Certainly the brush should be kept away from sources of dust or other contamination.

After the toothbrush has been used, it should be washed thoroughly and hung in the air where it will dry. Since it takes some time for the ordinary toothbrush to dry, it is probably best, if one can afford it, to have two toothbrushes, using them alternately.

There are still people who carry their toothbrush when traveling, in a vest pocket or loose in a suitcase. This is certainly not good care and is definitely unsanitary.

Children On Vacation Need Aid In Their Play

By Olive Roberts Barton

When Jimmy and Molly begin to quarrel during vacation, and run in with tales about their playmates, loll about and whine that they have nothing to do, we should know instantly that the trouble is not with them, altogether, but due to boredom.

It is very hard indeed for a busy mother to stop and show the children how to entertain themselves, but perhaps that would be easier on her nerves than constant bickering and complaining.

So it is well worth a lot of trouble for parents to help the small fry to plan their days. The swing and sliding board have lost their appeal. The bicycle lies inert on the lawn.

Stimulate Imaginations

Now is the time for all good mothers and true to come to the aid of the parties sitting chin in hand and looking as though the end of life had come. Imagination is the keynote to interest. It is the very backbone of play.

Let the children dress up and play make-believe. They will know what to do once they step into another role. Old clothes of almost any kind will do. Let them go the limit, with make-up and feathers, high-heeled shoes and what not. The neighborhood children will probably reciprocate if they are asked to join in the fun today. The round of dress-up affairs should last a week or two.

I think that one of the best investments any mother can make is a book on games for children. Things to make things to do, ways to play.

It is surprising what a bit of paper and glue will do. Or old boxes, materials, ribbons. Then, of course, the stone and boards that boys can accumulate hold a wealth of possibilities.

New games need nothing but a few children and a place to run. Even the latter can be dispensed with in case of guessing games.

Yes, vacation children need assistance with their play. A little work and a little play will sweeten up tempers like magic.

ANSWER: Animals that hunt, such as wolves, have flat-tipped noses, with the nostrils in front and close together. Animals that are hunted—deer, for example—have nostrils extending around to the side, which aid in catching warning scents from all directions.

They Sought Homes, And Built an Empire

A BUGLE sounds in the grayness of early dawn, shouting horsemen ride up and down the long line of wagons, horses strain forward in their traces and another wagon train moves slowly across the Kansas plains toward the West.

This was the picture of emigration in the middle of the 19th century as a growing nation pushed back the frontier, turned a non-productive wilderness into fertile acres.

They came from crowded cities, from exhausted farms, even from the Old World, these men and women of courage and determination, for whom the new West held promise of independence, a home and a chance to earn a living.

They followed the trails of explorers and trappers, fighting their way across the plains, over mountains, through storms and desert heat. Nothing could stop them. There was no turning back.

Hostile Indians menaced every mile of their slow progress. Hundreds perished, and their unmarked graves line the routes of the Oregon and Santa Fe trails.

But life in a wagon train was far from unhappy. Each night as camp was made, they gathered around the main campfire to gossip and to sing. In the long months required to make the journey to the Pacific, lasting friendships—and enmities—were made. Youth found romance, babies were born, the aged died. The trail tested the worth of men and women alike.

Hardships of emigration are depicted on the 10-cent slate U. S. stamp, above, enlarged, one of the Trans-Mississippi "Omaha" exposition series of 1898.

Exhibit Expenses Bring Complaint

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Some foreign exhibitors who have complained against union labor requirements at the New York World's Fair estimate informally that expenses of the 58 foreign nations were at least $10,000,000 above expectations, and one of them said the total excess charge in the international zone would reach $20,000,000.

Confirmation of the figures through the World's Fair Corporation or contractors could not be obtained today, but several foreign commissioners said the average on construction was 30 or 40 percent above estimates.

Although there has been no united protest, foreign exhibitors who complained included France, Venezuela, Greece, Denmark, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, New Zealand and Siam.

Many others preferred to remain silent.

The majority of foreign exhibitors said the Fair Corporation itself had cooperated as fully as possible but that high costs might cause some to abandon commercial exhibits in 1940.

The World's Fair Joint Board Culinary committee (AFL), representing kitchen and restaurant workers, offered in telegrams to Governor Lehman and Mayor La Guardia to help in any "impartial" inquiry into labor relations at the fair and contended "miserable working conditions" existed in open-shop concessions. Neither the mayor nor the governor has commented publicly.

Blind Pension Program Up

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15....(AP)—Another administration goal—federal financial aid for Missouri's blind pension program—came to the floor of the Senate today with a committee recommendation for passage.

The Senate Social Security committee reported out a bill which would shift blind pension administration to the Social Security Commission and base payments on need—a basic requirement for federal participation.

Gov. Lloyd C. Stark recommended legislation last week in a letter to Sen. Allen McReynolds (D), Carthage, the committee chairman. Two similar bills died in this session before Stark made his recommendation.

The new plan would abandon the state's flat pension program, financed by a three-cent tax levy. Income from that levy has been insufficient in recent years to maintain the full $25-a-month payment to pension recipients.

McReynolds said transferring the blind pension affairs to the Social Security Commission—and qualifying for government aid—would bring the state $875,000 a year in federal funds, which, with matching state dollars, would make $1,750,000 a year available for blind pensions.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

TWO THRIFTY PEOPLE...AND HOW THEY BOUGHT A MONEY-SAVING CAR!

JANE: There you go, praising the Martins' Dodge again. Why, I'd be only too delighted to decide on Dodge, if we could afford to buy a big car...

DICK: Afford a Dodge? Listen, dear, don't you realize that the new Dodge costs even less than last year—only a few dollars more than a small car!

DICK: And look at what Dodge gives you! That new gearshift at the steering wheel doesn't cost a cent extra...the front seat is wide enough for three...and there's that new windshield that's bigger than ever!

JANE: It's certainly a luxurious car, too!...and it has the smartest-looking front end I ever saw!

JANE: Darling, I've certainly got to hand it to you! Here I was secretly wishing for a Dodge, but I never realized that it was priced so low we could afford it!

DICK: That was an easy mistake to make. When you consider what a big car Dodge is, it's hard to believe that you can own it just about as easily as a small car!
